Once there was a king who wanted to attack God's people. Every time he tried to surprise them, they got away. It was like someone was telling them what the king was going to do.

"Who is the spy!" the king said.

"No one of us!" his helpers said. "It is that prophet, Elisha. He has power to hear even what you say in your bedroom!"

So, the king got all his army and at night they went all around the city where Elisha was. Were they finally trapped? Elisha's helper was afraid when he saw them. The king's army was very big! "How shall we do?" he said.

Elisha prayed, "God, open his eyes that he can see Your help."

What did he see?

When God opened the eyes of Elisha's helper, he saw an even bigger army. All made of fire!
